Early to bed and ...

Not all babies are born with the proverbial silver spoon. So also, not all babies are to be found with that coveted gift as they grow into adulthood. A more important phenomenon, sleep, provides a clear contrast between the child and the adult. The child that dodges its weary mother by remaining awake longer than accepted norm prescribed by Paediatricians finds itself at the receiving end of curses by its seniors in the family, dramatically acquiring a nuisance value. The adult, bugged by insomnia, has no option but to suffer in silence, being denied the much-needed empathy that may offer some sense of relief, however feeble. One doesn't come across instances of researchers stumbling on factors that induce sleep in babies for a major part of the 24-hour cycle, while wet diapers or craving for a feed may be obvious reasons for the baby to emerge from its slumber and call for attention by yelling, a reliable mode of signalling distress. However, the factors contributing to sleeplessness in adults have been researched extensively, leading to some understanding of the phenomenon and also reducing the sufferings of the victims.

The child that sleeps to accommodate the convenience of its mother or care-taker and the adult in the family who sleeps when it is time to sleep are assets for a contented family. The epic character Kumbhakarna, featured for his lying in deep slumber during one half of the year is cited even to this day by likening anybody who oversleeps to the demon, a clear insult.

Alert press photographers of some dailies have caught a former Prime Minister of the country in his mid-eighties and also a former Chief Minister of the State, nearly 20 years younger dozing off during public functions, in full view of the occasion's gathering prompting one to recollect the Kannada idiom Chinthe elladavanige, santheyallu nidde (one who is endowed with a stress-free mind can enjoy a snooze even amidst a noisy crowd), inviting a reaction from the leaders that they were lost in thoughts about the country and the people's welfare. Timeliness and quality of sleep, in addition to regular diet regimen, are prescribed as basic to keeping the body healthy and also as signs of wellness, often neglected even by the intelligentsia.

According to studies by researchers at a medical centre in a University in the USA, adults who have a regular bed time are likely to have a lower risk of heart ailments and diabetes. The line Early to bed and early to rise makes one healthy, wealthy and wise, in vogue for several centuries seems to have suffered a discounted message in our times.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

India simply isn't generating enough jobs to absorb the surplus labour from agriculture. What's worse, the ones that it had generated over the last 40 years are gradually disappearing. In 1900, the world population was one billion. Now it is more than seven billion. Half that is 3.5 billion. There's no way so many can be "employed." Improving technology has reduced demand for labour while increasing population increased its supply. The inescapable conclusion is that the world was living in a fool's paradise since 1950 thinking jobs are a birthright. If an economy works its outcome should be visible in jobs and income growth. However, this is palpably missing in many countries. — T.C.A. Srinivasa Raghavan in Business Standard.

NEWS SPARKLERS

Drunk birds cause havoc in town

Minnesota: Police in Gilbert, Minnesota, are warning residents about a group of youthful residents unable to handle their alcohol intake were drifting around the town looking disoriented, narrowly avoiding getting hit by cars. But these aren't teenagers getting drunk, they are birds.

A Scientist said that early frost had fermented berries earlier than usual and the birds were eating them and getting drunk.

Certain bird species, such as robins, cedar waxwings and thrushes, are the most prone to drunken antics since they eat more berries than other species like warblers and flycatchers that primarily eat insects. And as they prepare to fly south for winter, they may overindulge in an attempt to store up fat for the journey. The birds go from bush to bush trying to find more berries, their balance getting progressively worse.

'Shopping Boyfriends' on rent in China

Beijing: Many shopping malls in China are now offering attractive 'shopping' boyfriends that can be rented by the hour at really affordable rates to attract lonely female shoppers.

Walking through mall galleries in Chinese cities like Hebei or Foshan, you're likely to spot young, dapper men displayed in giant, doll box-like frames decorated with hearts.

They are called 'shopping boyfriends' and they can be rented by the hour by lonely female shoppers looking for company. Rates start as low as 1 yuan ($0.15) per hour, up to 2 yuan ($0.30) in some shopping malls.

Putting attractive men on display and for rental at extremely affordable prices has apparently been generating a lot of interest among female shoppers, who gather around to at least snap some photos. While some appreciate, others declared themselves disappointed by the experience, saying that shopping with a girlfriend is much more experience, than doing it with a stranger, even a handsome one.

Pourakarmikas Strike

Stalemate continues, City stinks

Dumping garbage on roads by civic workers draws flak

Mysuru, Oct.6 (MTY& SR)- As the conciliatory talks with Mysuru District Minister G.T. Devegowda and Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh failed to break the ice yesterday, Pourakarmikas continued their indefinite agitation for the fourth day this morning in front of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) office.

Pourakarmikas are staging protest urging the State Government to fulfil various demands including regularisation of services, abolition of contract system and free breakfast.

Meanwhile, the city continues to stink as mounds of garbage are accumulating on almost all the streets.

The worst affected are the areas in Central Business District such as D. Devaraja Urs Road, Sayyaji Rao Road, K.R. Circle, Chamaraja Circle, Shivarampet Road and Dhanvanthri Road.

Residential areas also bore the brunt of the strike with no garbage collectors going door-to-door to collect waste. Due to this, residents were seen carrying muck-filled plastic bags and dumping them in the already-stinking garbage bins.

Yesterday's move of striking Pourakarmikas to pour garbage on the roads and in front of shops and business establishments drew sharp criticism. Several businessmen called SOM office this morning and said that the move to dump waste on road was uncalled for.

"Pourakarmikas have every right to protest but they cannot dump waste on the road. As it is there is dull business in our area and now we are suffering huge losses as the garbage is spread all over," said Ramachandra, a trader from D. Devaraja Urs Road.

District Minister interacts with PSI probationers

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (RK&DM)- Taking time off from his hectic schedule, District Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) interacted with PSI probationers, who are undergoing training at Karnataka Police Academy (KPA) in city this morning. During the interaction, GTD is said to have told that it was a welcome sign that more and more number of highly qualified and technical graduates were showing interest in joining the Police force.

Pointing out that till recently, only conventional graduates (BA, B.Com etc) were interested in joining the Police department, the Minister said that the entry of highly qualified and technical personnel will be more advantageous for the department.

Stating that the Karnataka Police have earned a good name in Policing, Devegowda called upon the probationers to work only as per law and thus ensure the safety and security of the common man, besides protecting public properties and maintenance of law and order.

The Minister is said to have advised the probationers that it was their responsibility to ensure that the guilty are punished and at the same time, the innocents are saved from punishment.

Mekedatu: Centre reacted positively, claims CM

Union Water Resources Minister Nitin Gadkari asked CWC to clear project, says Kumaraswamy

Bengaluru, Oct. 6 (UNI)- Union Minister for Water Resources Nitin Gadkari has 'reacted positively' and has directed the Secretary, Central Water Commission (CWC), to clear the proposed Rs.5,912-crore Mekedatu project, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy said.

Speaking to reporters in New Delhi after meeting Gadkari last evening, Kumaraswamy expressed confidence about the CWC clearing the project soon. The CM briefed the Union Minister on the urgent need to clear the project.

"Mekedatu project has been in hibernation even 40 years after it was envisaged. There is an urgent need to make use of the water, which is flowing into the sea unused," Kumaraswamy said.

Gadkari's response to the State's request to build a reservoir along the Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border has come as a huge relief to Karnataka. The proposed reservoir can store 66 tmcft of water. Karnataka has been pressing for the reservoir, particularly after a good monsoon this year. As against the annual quota of 177.5 TMC Cauvery water for Tamil Nadu, Karnataka has so far released 346 tmcft of which close to 209 TMC has been let into the Bay of Bengal.

The previous Congress Government had cleared the project in February 2017 at an estimated cost of Rs.5,912 crore. This year, the Congress-JD(S) coalition Government, in its Budget, had mentioned to expedite the process to get the pre-feasibility done for the project.

Karnataka is keen to build what it's called a 'balancing reservoir' to store excess water and release the same to Tamil Nadu during distress period.

The State had also proposed to build Hydel Power Station with a capacity of generating 400 MW besides using water for drinking purposes in Bengaluru and the neighbouring Ramanagaram district.

Tamil Nadu, however, has been opposing the proposal, expressing apprehension that the construction of the reservoir will curtail its quota of water. If the project becomes a reality, Bengaluru will be the biggest beneficiary as it will help meet the Capital City's growing demand for drinking water.

Power generation will also ensure smooth electricity supply to both domestic and industrial purposes.

Woman murdered over property dispute

Mysuru, Oct.6- A feud over ownership of property resulted in the murder of a 45-year-old woman at Kadakola in the taluk yesterday.

Kanchana

The victim has been identified as Kanchana (45), wife of Devu Rao of Kadakola. Devu Rao's family had a running dispute with Bahulal, brother of Devu Rao, over a site in front of their house at Kadakola.

Kanchana went to the site on Friday morning when Bahulal asked her not to visit the site as it belonged to them. But Kanchana rebutting Bahulal's claims on ownership of the site, entered into a verbal duel, when Bahulal along with his wife and sons beat her up with a stick and rod.

The seriously injured Kanchana was rushed to a city hospital, where she breathed her last some time later.

Within an hour of the incident, the South Police arrested the accused Bahulal, his wife Jamuna and sons Sunil and Sukesh.

All the accused were produced before a city Court, which remanded them to judicial custody.

The Mysuru South Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Youth arrested, mobile phones worth Rs.4.4 lakh recovered

Mysuru, Oct.6 (DM)- Four months after the incident, the N.R. Police have been successful in cracking a tricky case, where a conman had taken away a parcel containing brand new cell phones from a KSRTC driver after falsely claiming himself as the consignee, with the arrest of a youth.

The arrested has been identified as Puneet Singh, 23, a resident of A.J. Block in N.R. Mohalla of the city.

Acting on a tip off, the Police picked up Puneet Singh on Oct.4. During interrogation, he confessed to have picked the box containing mobile phones from a KSRTC driver at Fountain Circle in the city about four months ago, following which the box containing 33 mobile phones totally worth about Rs.4.4 lakh was recovered from his house.

Case details: A cell phone dealer at Pandavapura had dispatched a parcel containing 33 mobile phones on June 8, 2018 through a KSRTC bus driver which was meant to be delivered to his (dealer's) Assistant at Mysuru at KSRTC Sub-Urban Bus Stand. But Puneet Singh, probably knowing about it, took the parcel box from the driver when the KSRTC bus stopped at Fountain Circle, after falsely claiming himself as the consignee. But the bus driver was in soon reaching the Sub-Urban Bus Stand, when the real consignee, the Pandavapura dealer's Assistant asked the driver for the parcel.

The mobile phone dealer had lodged a complaint with the N.R. Police in this regard. The nabbing and recovery operation was carried out by N.R. Police Inspector Basavaraj, SI N. Mohan and staff Ramesh, Manjunath, Mahadev and Krishna.

Construction labourer dies after falling from building

Mysuru, Oct.6- In a tragic incident, a 28-year-old construction worker died after falling from a building under construction in Devaraja Police Station limits on Thursday.

The deceased has been identified as Krishnamurthy, of Chilakahalli near Hullahalli in Nanjangud taluk.

Krishnamurthy was engaged in centring works at an under-construction building on Boti Bazar Road behind Mannar's Market in Shivarampet at about 8 am, when he accidentally slipped and fell off from the third floor of the building. The seriously injured Krishnamurthy was rushed to nearby K.R. Hospital, where he breathed his last sometime later, according to Devaraja Police who have registered a case in this regard.

Meanwhile, the deceased Krishnamurthy's wife Sumalaltha has lodged a complaint with the Devaraja Police, seeking action against the building owner Srinivas Rao and Engineer Chinnaswamy for failing to provide safety equipment for her husband.

Burglar held; Gold jewellery worth Rs.6 lakh recovered

Mysuru, Oct.6- The CCB Police, who arrested a burglar on Thursday, have recovered gold jewellery worth Rs.6 lakh allegedly stolen by him from a house in Mandi Mohalla a couple of months ago.

The arrested has been identified as L. Venkatesh, 50, of M.M. Hills in Hanur taluk of Chamarajanagar district.

The Police, who picked up Venkatesh from his house at M.M. Hills on suspicion, interrogated him, when he confessed to have broken into a house in Mandi Mohalla in city, following which gold jewellery and silver articles worth Rs.6 lakh were recovered from him.

Venkatesh, who was a repeat offender, had come out of jail a few months ago, according to the Police.

VOICE OF THE READER

Provide additional train service during Dasara season

Sir,

The recent development to allow advance reservation by AC coach to travel by Malgudi Express is a welcome step, especially owing to anticipated rush during the upcoming Dasara.

As Dasara festival is just a few days away, necessary arrangement should be made by the Railways to arrange for special trains between Bengaluru and Mysuru. Such an effort can be undertaken by extending a few trains terminating at Bengaluru that arrive from various places with high demand like Hyderabad, Chennai and New Delhi.

Also there is an urgent need for an additional service to New Delhi via Bengaluru apart from the existing weekly service from Mysuru by Swarna Jayanti Express that operates via Hassan.

An additional connectivity to New Delhi via Bengaluru plays a vital role to link Mysuru with other important cities. Due to lack of an additional direct connectivity to Delhi from Mysuru, one still has to change trains at Bengaluru. The passengers are forced to travel only by either of daily available trains — Karnataka Express, Rajdhani Express and Sampark Kranti Express that operate from Bengaluru.

Hence an effort should be made to either introduce a new train from Mysuru or to consider the extension of some of the trains from Bengaluru which provide connectivity to New Delhi via Hyderabad. The suggestion can be experimented on a short term basis during Dasara.

Dance Ballet 'Gajagowrava-Balaramana Kathe'

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (RKB&SR)- Dasara elephant Balarama, which made headlines in the past for carrying the Ambari (Golden Howdah) majestically during the Jumboo Savari more than a dozen times, will make headlines once again when the jumbo will formally release its own biography.

The book, titled 'Aane Banthondaane - Balaramana Gajapayana,' originally written in English (Balarama's Story - An Elephant's Journey) by Alladi Jayasri and D.K. Bhaskar and translated into Kannada by C.R. Naveen, will be released by Balarama after the inauguration of Dasara Cultural events at Mysore Palace premises by Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy on Oct.10 at 7 pm.

Speaking to media persons at Pathrakarthara Bhavan in city recently, noted dancer and Kuchipudi exponent Dr. Veena Murthy said Alladi Jayasri and Bhaskar had written this book in English inspired by the life of Dasara Elephant Balarama which has successfully taken part in Dasara festivities for more than 20 years including 13 world famous Jumboo Savari carrying the Golden Howdah on his back.

The English version of the book was released at Dallas, Texas, USA, last month, during AKKA 10th World Kannada Convention. The Kannada book, published by the Kannada and Culture Department, will be released by 60-year-old Balarama in the presence of Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy and a galaxy of dignitaries, she said.

The 60-year-old Balarama was rescued at Kattepura in H.D. Kote taluk in 1978. He is housed at Mathigodu Elephant Camp under Nagarahole forests in Kodagu district, according to Dr. Nagaraj, the caretaker of Dasara elephants for the last 20 years.

Dr. Veena said that Mysuru Royal family is worshipping Goddess Chamundeshwari and Elephants from time immemorial. The family has been playing a significant role in conservation of forests, elephants and wild animals. This book depicts the journey of elephant Balarama from forests to the human habitat. It explains about the relationship between humans and elephants to young readers. Balarama is also described as the symbol of spiritual energy that carries the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari placed inside the Golden Howdah on its caparisoned back.

The authors have likened Balarama to Gajendra, the mythological elephant which prays to Lord Vishnu when it was caught by a crocodile. The book also provides information about Balarama's Mahout Sannappa who piloted him for many years. Now Balarama is under the care of Mahout Thimma and Kavadi Papu. Veterinarian Dr. Nagaraj, Janachethana Trust President Prasannagowda and Music Director Karthik Sharma were present during the press meet.

Dance Ballet: The dance ballet titled 'Gajagowrava-Balaramana Kathe' choreographed by Dr. Veena Murthy will be performed after the book release. Over 30 dancers will enact the role of Balarama, Drona, Mahout Sannappa, Goddess Chamundeshwari and other characters.

Online pharmacy firms: Delhi High Court seeks Centre's reply on plea seeking closure

New Delhi, Oct. 6 (UNI)- The Delhi High Court yesterday sought responses of the Centre and the Delhi government on a plea seeking closure of online pharmacy companies that are offering drugs and prescription medicines through websites.

Justice Vibhu Bakhru issued notice to the Central Government, Central Drug Standard Control Organisation, Commissioner of Food and Drugs Administration and Delhi Government.

The Court asked the authorities to file their stand on or before the next date of hearing on Feb. 25, 2019. The plea filed through Advocate Amit Gupta submitted that the sale of drugs and prescription medicines online is illegal and without any mandate of law. "As opposed to the sale of drugs and prescription medicines in 'brick-and-mortar stores,' online pharmacy stores are operating freely without any regulatory restrictions," the petition by South Chemists and Distributors Association contended.

Sale and purchase of drugs is regulated by various Legislative enactments and rules, such as the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940, Drugs and Cosmetics Rules, 1945, Pharmacy Act, 1948, Pharmacy Practice Regulations, 2015, Indian Medical Act, 1956, Code of Ethics Regulations, 2002, and Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisement) Act, 1954.

However, "the online pharmacies are not following any of the provisions and are allowed to operate freely," the petition states. The plea contended that the same was in violation of Articles 14, 19 and 21 of the Constitution as it results in denial of a level playing field between the online and offline pharmacies.

"The inaction of the government in not taking any action against the illegal websites through which Scheduled Drugs including antibiotics, narcotic and psychotropic medicines are available freely online, has serious adverse consequences on the public health," the plea claimed.

It may be recalled here that on Sept. 28, a nation-wide bandh was observed by medical shops opposing the alleged loopholes in the draft regulations on e-pharmacies.

Finally, Dasara Exhibition tender goes to Fun World

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (MTY&BCT)- Bringing some relief to the beleaguered Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) that was struggling to find takers for Dasara Exhibition tenders, the tender has finally been awarded to Bengaluru-based Fun World.

The KEA was facing difficulties as no firm came forward to apply for exhibition tenders for various reasons including last year's flooding where the exhibitors suffered huge losses. This year, tenders were floated twice due to lack of response and Fun World bagged the tender.

The company bid for Rs. 6,99,30,000 that includes entry ticket, parking fee, commercial and food stalls and amusement park fee. Last year, a tender amount of Rs. 6.66 crore was fixed and Fun World had bagged it.

Tenders were floated on Sept. 19 and KEA had not got a single tender for entry tickets, parking lot fee, entertainment section and the 136 commercial stalls. So, the KEA had floated the tender for the second time on Sept. 28 where only two firms participated. "The tender has now been awarded to Fun World and this needs the approval of the State Government," said KEA CEO N.M. Shashikumar.

This year, the State Government had announced that the exhibition will be inaugurated along with Dasara festivities on Oct. 10 and would remain open till December-end. The government had also mooted a grand plan of converting the Dasara Exhibition Grounds into a round-the-clock and all-year exhibition and events.

With just four days left for the Dasara to be inaugurated, it is expected only 50 percent of the stalls will be open and that too, 30 of them are government stalls. Commercial establishments and other exhibitors may not put up their stalls and it might take at least 15 to 20 days for them to do so, sources said.

This time there will be no change in the entry fee where adults will have to pay Rs. 20 and children have to pay Rs. 10.

Infertility problem could be because of TB

Tuberculosis (TB) is a bacterium which can affect any part of your body, but most often affects the lungs. In some cases the TB infection moves through the blood to other parts of the body. It can thus cause secondary infections in the genital tract, pelvic area, kidneys, spine and brain. When the bacterium reaches the genital tract it causes genital tuberculosis or pelvic TB. It affects the genital tract, fallopian tubes, uterus, and ovaries. Genital tuberculosis is one of the major causes of tubal disease and female infertility in developing countries.

Dr. Devika Gunasheela

"Female genital tuberculosis is seen among 10% of gynaecological patients. It is seen mostly secondary to tuberculosis infection in the lungs. Fallopian tubes are the most commonly affected (90 %) followed by uterus, ovaries and cervix. Patients may be asymptomatic with just infertility or recurrent pregnancy loss being the reason to come to hospital. Some patients who have severely affected uteri with tuberculosis may have no period at all", says Dr. Devika Gunasheela, Fertility Specialist, Gunasheela Fertility Centre, Mysore and Bangalore.

TB only cause infertility when it infects the genital tract, which is very hard to diagnose and called as genital TB. It affects the fertility of a person by distorting the normal anatomy of the reproductive tract. Diagnose this TB is by culturing the tubercle bacillus from the tissue and sent to the lab for testing, while it takes time to grow in lab and by the time it shows positive signs, patient will arrive at an advanced stage.

Various patients neglect the diagnostic test for TB when they are unable to conceive, but it might be the major cause for your infertility problem. So it would be good to test and ensure the root cause of infertility. There need not be a significant history of previous contact with tuberculosis. Once diagnosed with genital tuberculosis, treatment is given for 6 months. Patients after treatment either conceive spontaneously or can come for assisted reproductive techniques (IUI / IVF). After treatment of genital TB pregnancy rates seem to be around 35 – 40 %. Dr. Yes and Dr. No: Musings on 'World Heart Day'

Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research, KRS Road, Mysuru

First things first. Whenever the word doctor is uttered, one naturally conjures up the image of a medical doctor. But there is another category of doctors also. They are those holding highest University degree in any faculty (Ph.D).

These days, this category of doctors are a dime a dozen who have done research on subjects trivial and frivolous with the sole objective of getting a teaching job under the University Grants Commission (UGC) with a fat salary. So fat, it is leading them not towards pursuit of knowledge to teach and do research but towards a life of luxury and indolence. Honourable exceptions are there no doubt but they are as rare as a hen's teeth.

There is also a third category of doctors. They are the venerable senior citizens who have excelled themselves in their given field of activity. Like film actor Dr. Rajkumar, writer Dr. Shivarama Karanth, the well-known photographer T.S. Satyan and others. However, since it is a honour bestowed on them by the University, their honorific is usually not used as a prefix before their names. I remember T.S. Satyan walking into my office with some irritation and educating me on the use of this kind of Doctorate in invitations news, essays or novels. It has to be mentioned separately just as in the case of national civilian Padma honours.

Dr. C.N. Manjunath

Ex-CM Siddharamaiah

Dr. K.S. Sadananda

Dr. Harsha Basappa

World over, eversince 1999, the 29th September every year is being observed as 'World Heart Day.' The objective is to create awareness about the need to take care of our hearts as it is found that heart disease is one of the highest killers of people all over the world. India is no exception.

The Cardiological Society of India (CSI), Mysore Chapter, headed by Dr. Harsha Basappa, Associate Professor, Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research, Mysuru and its office-bearers, is observing 'World Heart Day' tomorrow, 7th October, 2018 with the year's slogan 'My Heart, Your Heart' and by holding a walkathon — a long walk in city starting from JK Grounds, a walk for a healthy heart and terminating at the same place for a function in the MMC&RI Platinum Jubilee Auditorium at 10 am.

In my younger days, there used to be only Government Doctors — Physicians and Surgeons. Private practice was not in vogue, except for dentists. As population took a quantum leap, Medical Colleges mushroomed, a plethora of specialists among doctors began to come out of these Colleges. As a result, specialisations extended to such an extreme that today if you went to a doctor with a nose problem he would ask you which nostril ? If you have eye problem, the same question and only a specialist would attend or you would be sent to another 'specialist hospital' or doctor. Of course, the beneficiary of this 'specialisation' phenomenon is the patient, even if it costs more and takes many visits. Alleluia !

The same could be said of the heart diseases. These days there are as many kinds of heart specialists as there are heart diseases. From diagnosing the problem to its proper, successful treatment, it is a challenge to a Cardiologist and also to the Surgeon. I guess among all the diseases that a person is afflicted with — be it cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes, whatever — it is only the heart-related diseases that cannot wait while all other ailments can be managed with time. Surprisingly, many with symptoms of heart problem delude themselves attributing them to either 'gastric problem' or 'muscle catch' at their own peril.

The problem of the heart (to jest, including the problem of love !) however, cannot wait for tomorrow. A case of now or never. Tomorrow it may be too late. It is because, if heart stops the functioning of all other organs of our body stops. And the person is dead. Which is why, heart care takes the top priority in medical care. I am speaking from my own authority because I am a member of the 'Heart Bypass Members Club' now having my morning walk regularly. I love walking in the morning and I also love Johnnie Walker for company in the evening !

I sometimes wonder without these Cardiologists and the advances made in heart-related medical research what would have been the fate of many with heart ailments. For sure, it would have had an impact on the size of population and resulted in poor quality of life for those on 'survival' medication — almost living like vegetable — don't eat this, that; don't run, don't climb steps, don't lift weight, don't have sex and such too many Don'ts.

Now, thanks to Cardiologists — Consultants, Interventionalists and Surgeons — a heart patient has hope. Yesterday's newspapers carried a news about the death of Mrs. Ramila Umashankar, Deputy Mayor, Bengaluru, due to heart attack. If only she had seen her Cardiologist... But then it is a big IF. This is where the preventive care of the heart plays an important role. One such step is in taking the first step for the morning or evening walk every day. Hence, tomorrow's 'Walkathon' for good heart. Join in.

On this occasion, we must thank the then Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and also the Director of Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research, Bengaluru, Dr. C.N. Manjunath, for establishing a similar hospital with the same name here in city on KRS Road. It is now headed by young Cardiologists Dr. K.S. Sadananda as Medical Superintendent and Dr. Harsha Basappa as Associate Professor. I learn the daily number of patient-footfall (!) is over 500. This Hospital should be a HOPE FOR THE FINANCIALLY POOR HEART PATIENTS who can't afford the Corporate Hospitals.

Vintage Winners

A classic-car show attracts vintage beauties worth tens of millions of rupees and the owners who are worth considerably more. India's golden age of the automobile was when the country's obscenely rich Maharajas (of which there were once more than 600) ordered cars by the dozen from eager manufacturers who happily pandered to their every extraordinary whim. After democracy was established, the role of the Maharajas was taken over by vintage car lovers who go to any extent to own an old car or to repair a broken down yesteryear machine. One such person of passion is in our city and in a candid chat, as featured in this Weekend Star Supplement, the avid collector opens up about his love for classic cars and how he became so passionate about restoring antique models.

These are Garage Antiques. This vintage car collection owned by M. Gopinath Shenoy is a testament to the grace of machines from bygone eras and a roadmap of automotive evolution.

Vintage cars are classic examples of art, craftsmanship and engineering. While they have every right to be in museums, they are best enjoyed (while driving) on the road with eyes of fellow commuters popping out to admire the beauty and ears tuned to hear the sound of these time-less machines. It is like driving an old-world soul through a modern landscape. Vintage cars always have a huge fan following and the people who grew up on them are reaching their levels of buying power, timed with their need for nostalgia. Tucked away from the busy streets of Mysuru, there is a beautiful property and a plush European-style bungalow owned by Gopinath Shenoy near Kurubarahalli Circle on the Lalitha Mahal Palace Road. This bungalow was constructed by Sir Mirza Ismail and the property was later purchased by Gopinath.

Well-known for his love for vintage cars, Gopinath has a fleet of about 32 such cars in his collection. His collection includes vehicles that once belonged to India's maharajas, well known for splurging on luxurious rides.

Some of his collections include Dodge, 1930 Ford, 1930 Cadillac, and Rolls Royce of the Maharaja of Ramgarh in Bihar, Daimler Saloon, once owned by legendary Bollywood actor Ashok Kumar.

Speaking about how vintage cars caught his attention and how he began to collect some of them, Gopinath Shenoy said that about 15 years ago, an auto expo was held in Bengaluru where a few vintage cars were displayed which fascinated him.

"I really wanted to own some of them and began my search and research. Luckily, I found a few owners who wanted to sell their vintage beauties and I straight-away bought them," Gopinath said.

All his cars teach us a thing or two about technology. It's not just the history of these vehicles that attracted Gopinath but their looks, technology, feel and of course on-road attraction. "All these came after the vintage bug bit me. From then on, I started collecting as many classic cars as I could — I was on a buying spree and it took me years to completely set up this collection," he says and adds that he too could share stories about vintage cars and relive the best of memories.

"These vintage cars have brought me lots of fun, enjoyment and unforgettable moments," he says, before adding "There are some challenges to me as well. Storage is one among them. But unfazed by challenges, I'm still looking for more valuable and beautiful classic cars."

Cars are like people, the care and feeding of cars and people is continuous and expensive. But the car has the advantage of being a machine. "A person is like a machine, only cleverer and much more complicated, totally amazing yet somewhat imperfect, and sometimes much harder or even impossible to fix. Needless to say, we humans come with no warranty, and there's no money back if we go wrong. While we humans have no value as we get old, the value of these cars double, treble or go way beyond the price multiple times with time," he said.

Speaking about repairs when these beauties breakdown, Gopinath again compares human beings with cars. "Both people and cars get old. And old cars can be like old people. They break down, and as time goes on they break down more and more. As very few people know about the mechanism of these vintage cars in city, I have sent a few cars to Mumbai and Kolkata for restoration and repairs," he reveals.

If one is passionate about something, then he/ she is more than willing to take risks and that's what Gopinath also did. He started researching about how to preserve and restore vintage cars. "You should understand the art and craft of vehicle restoration. Thanks to the internet and like-minded vintage car enthusiasts, I have gained knowledge about the cars. We all depend on each other because old cars need regular maintenance," explains Gopinath.

Restoration of an out-of-production car is a difficult task and most of the time, sourcing materials is like a treasure hunt. "It is a definitely a time-consuming process and you need to have bucket-loads of patience. It is a challenge to repair and upkeep them, considering most of the parts are out of production," he said.

"Every car is precious to me and driving them is a great stress-buster. I have plans to hold an exhibition of all my cars once the cars come back from fully repaired and restored," he sums up.

Savithri Shenoy, wife of Gopinath Shenoy said that it is her husband's hobby of collecting vintage cars and she fully supported him. When the cars roll out inside their house compound, it will be the results of years of painstaking effort, which Savithri has seen first-hand.

Mysureans, who had a chance to see over 50 vintage beauties at the Dasara Vintage Rally that was organised on Oct. 1, will soon get a chance to see them at leisure and admire them as Gopinath Shenoy is planning to establish a "Collector's Museum" or an exhibition of his car collection.

Sandheep Nayak, a relative, entrepreneur and a partner of Gopinath Shenoy, told SOM that after purchasing the vintage cars from Mumbai, Delhi, Kolkata and other places, Gopinath had kept them idle which resulted in some of the cars coming under repair. "As spare parts were not easily available, I began to search for the spares by collecting information from previous owners and friends," he added.

"I took the initiative to get these vintage beauties restored and sent 10 cars to Kolkata and 10 to Mumbai for repairs," he said.

"One of the most prestigious events in the world for vintage cars is 'Cartier' that makes luxury cars and pens. It is called 'Cartier Concours D'Elegance'. In 2017, four of our cars were taken for the Cartier exhibition in Hyderabad. "You cannot just take your cars there as it is by-invitation-only event. Over 50 to 55 cars had come from India and we had four there. All our cars were featured in the Auto Car magazine," Sandeep explained.

"In India, there is not much love, awareness and funding available to restore these cars. "There are a lot more people and clubs interested in classic cars abroad, but the situation here is improving. It is important for this generation to realise the need to preserve these cars, because if we don't, that need will go away," he says.

Three tribals from Hunsur stuck in Mozambique

Hunsur, Oct. 6 (Raghu&BCT)- Three tribals belonging to Hakki-Pikki community from Pakshirajapura village near Hunsur have been stuck at Nampula in Mozambique for the last three months and they have been banned from leaving that country.

The tribals are Saiju, Madhu Chandran and Praveen from Pakshirajapura that is well known for Ayurvedic treatment, massages and herbal remedies. All the three tribals are in their thirties and were selling plant extracts and offering massages to people with body ache and other ailments.

Reports from Mozambique say that the tribals allegedly paid a bribe to local authorities to extend their stay in Mozambique and this attracted the attention of the Anti-Corruption Department of that country. The Department is not ready to let the three leave the country until the investigation into the case is completed, reports said.

Nanjunda Swamy, the village head of Pakshirajapura told Star of Mysore this morning that he does not have much information on the trio trapped in a foreign country. "All the three are from our village and as per the information provided by their family, they had gone abroad for business purposes early this year and have not yet returned.

Reports from Mozambique said that Saiju, Madhu Chandran, and Praveen have neither been detained nor arrested but were prohibited to leave the country. The tribals were a part of a group of 16 members who had arrived in Mozambique to explore business opportunities in July.

After the expiry of their three-month visa, they tried to extend their stay by securing residence permits and for this they allegedly paid money get residence permits illegally. The local Anti-Corruption Department got information about the bribe and had rounded off all the 16 persons.

Reports said that the Indian High Commission learnt about the case on July 17 and managed to get Mozambique government to deport 13 members of the team in the first week of August. Efforts are on to deport Saiju, Madhu Chandran, and Praveen, reports added.

MLA wields broom, extends support to Pourakarmikas

Mysuru, Oct.6 (US&PM)- In a rare gesture extending support to the ongoing stir of Pourakarmikas, MLA L. Nagendra, accompanied by BJP Corporators of Chamaraja Constituency and party activists cleaned Devaraja Urs Road from K.R. Circle to JLB Road this morning. The garbage collected was shifted using goods autorickshaws.

As Nagendra began the cleaning operation, a few Pourakarmikas misconstruing the MLA's intention arrived at the spot and tried to prevent him but decided otherwise on learning about Nagendra's good intentions and his support for the stir.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Nagendra opined that the demands of the Pourakarmikas were legitimate and justified. He observed that the government was unduly dragging its feet especially when Dasara is round the corner. He sought immediate intervention of the Chief Minister and Minister for Urban Development.

He threatened that he along with others from BJP would join the stir if the government continues to be indecisive beyond the next 48 hours.

Several other traders too complained that the striking Pourakarmikas had intentionally targeted some buildings and poured garbage in front of the shops. "We are fed up and the government must consider some of their demands and on their part, Pourakarmikas must protest in a responsible way," said Madanlal, who owns a shop near Mannar's Market.

Pourakarmikas adamant

Addressing protesters this morning, MCC Pourakarmika Association President N. Mara said the Association will not withdraw their strike until the intervention of State Urban Development Minister U.T. Khader and Chief Minister H.D Kumaraswamy.

He wanted the government to fulfil their demands on humanitarian grounds. "We pick up garbage with bare hands, segregate wet and dry waste. This is risky and the government is doing nothing to prevent our health problems and most of us are suffering from skin diseases, diabetes, short/ long sight, high blood pressure, heart ailments and other health issues," he said.

Efforts to break deadlock

Meanwhile, the District Administration is holding a meeting with Pourakarmika leaders at the Deputy Commissioner's Office this evening at 4.30. District Minister G.T. Devegowda, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar and others are attending the meeting to break the logjam.

UoM temporary employees begin indefinite strike

Mysuru, Oct.6 (US&PM)- Over 100 members of Mysore University Temporary Employees Association commenced an indefinite strike near Kuvempu Statue at the main entrance to the Varsity on Bogadi Road here this morning seeking fulfilment of their various demands.

The members alleged that the temporary employees formed the majority of the employees of the University who have been working on a meagre salary for the last 10 to 15 years.

They pointed out that the Supreme Court had given a judgement saying 'equal salary for equal work' which should be implemented and also sought regularisation of temporary employees based on seniority.

Association President Basavaraj C. Jettihundi, Vice-President Manjeshgowda, General Secretary Srinivas, Treasurer Siddaraju and others were present.

Another stir continues

Meanwhile, the indefinite strike going on in front of Crawford Hall here under the aegis of various organisations led by Dalit Sangharsha Samithi alleging irregularities by University officials, entered the third day today. Incharge VC Dr. Aisha Shariff interacted with the protestors and sought some time to look into the matter.

Minister promises to boost Tourism in State

Karnataka, which is ranked seventh among tourist hubs in India, will soon stand second, says S.R. Mahesh

Mysuru, Oct.6 (RKB&SR)- Tourism and Sericulture Minister S.R. Mahesh assured to make all possible efforts to develop the State as second best tourist hub of the country as the State has been ranked seventh in attracting the tourists.

He was speaking after inaugurating Travel log'18, a two-day National Seminar on 'Tourism and the Digital Transformation,' organised by the Department of Tourism and Hospitality Management at Pooja Bhagavath Memorial Mahajana Education Centre, PG Wing of SBRR Mahajana FGC, on KRS Road in Metagalli here yesterday.

He said that the State has been attracting huge number of 22 lakh visitors every year from both abroad and other States of the nation as it is blessed with natural abundance.

He said that the State had recorded the business turnover of Rs.3,000 crore last year, but neighbouring Tamil Nadu had registered 9,000 crore turnover in tourism sector — thrice more than Karnataka. However, Karnataka State Government has been making all efforts to give boost to tourism besides to tap the tourism potentiality of the State to utmost level by giving thrust to development of tourist spots, he said.

The Minister said that the Government has also given special attention for hospitality management which is crucial to attract the visitors. The role of taxi, cab owners and drivers is very important in hospitality management.

Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswanmy is also releasing sufficient grants for improvement of tourism. Highest number of jobs has been created in this sector in the State. As many as 17 persons will get jobs if a hotel is constructed. The State Government would give priority for such business besides providing subsidies to unemployed youths for the purchase of cabs as part of promoting tourism and job creation activities.

Mahesh also said various flight operators are also operating the flights at a cheap fare of Rs.999 per ticket between Bengaluru and Mysuru during this Dasara season. Such measures have been taken as part of tourism promotion to attract visitors to the Heritage City.

The Mysore Palace illumination, which used to be only a two-day affair (mainly on Saturdays and Sundays and on some particular occasions), will henceforth be a regular feature. And the expenses incurred by the additional five-day illumination will be paid by the Tourism Department.

State Higher Education and District Minister G.T. Devegowda wanted the Tourism Department to utilise modern technology for improvement of tourism economy. Youths should come forward to study the courses like Tourism and Hospitality Management as there is ample job opportunities in this sector.

'Dasara Yuva Sambhrama' - Day 6

Special children steal the show

Mysuru, Oct.6 (YDS&US)- Special children stole the show on the sixth day of 'Dasara Yuva Sambhrama' last evening at the Open Air Theatre in Manasagangothri here.

Students of Putteeramma School for Speech and Hearing Impaired presented a thought-provoking dance to the song 'Vande Mataram Sujalam Suphalam Mareyada Sheetalam' with matchless perfection and synchronisation defying their inability bewildering the audience. The excellent point was when the widow of a martyred soldier was sobbing in front of her husband's body, their little daughter holds aloft the National Flag held by her father.

The scene of patriotism received a thunderous applause from the audience. Befitting the occasion, portraits of Kuvempu, Sir MV, Dr. Rajkumar, Kittur Rani Chennamma and Kanakadasa were displayed on the stage.

Students of Nireekshe Special School presented a dance-drama sending a message that they need empathy and not sympathy. Nagaraj Jamakhandi Memorial Trust, Bengaluru, donated Rs.25,000 to Nireekshe School on the occasion.

Later, students of JSS Women's College, Chamarajanagar and Vijay Vittala Composite PU College danced to songs highlighting the richness of the State culture and Kannada language.

Enjoy Water Sports ROUND-THE-YEAR at Varuna Lake

Ministers S.R. Mahesh & G.T. Devegowda, former Mayor Ravikumar, MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah and others taking a look at the arrangements made by Outback Adventures at Varuna Lake for the Water Sports.

Mysuru, Oct.6 (RK&SR)- The Dasara water sports, one of the major attractions of Dasara festivities, was inaugurated by Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda and Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh at Varuna Lake on T. Narasipur Road here yesterday.

S.R. Mahesh, who spoke on the occasion, said henceforth water sports will be a permanent feature in Varuna Lake and will be open for tourists and sports enthusiasts throughout the year.

The District Administration and State Tourism Department had leased the Lake to Outback Adventures, one of the reputed agencies on adventure sports to conduct the water sports for a period of five years. The Department had awarded the contract to this agency after an agreement to pay Rs.1.66 lakh annually to the Government. It can continue for another five years if it wishes to renew the contract. The agency has already developed all necessary infrastructures in the Lake. It will maintain, operate and manage the water sports activities on its own cost.

Adventure sports hub: The District Administration used to conduct this adventure sport for a week during Dasara celebrations without much response and the sporting activity would cease soon after Vijayadashami celebrations. However, the Department has decided to conduct water sports as a permanent feature in Varuna Lake to project the city as a hub for adventure sports also.

He said this Lake has been selected as it receives adequate inflow of water from Varuna channel for irrigation purpose from KRS reservoir throughout the year. Sports activities like kayaking, pedal boat, jet ski, speed boat, banana ride, zorbing, canoeing and water trampoline will be conducted. All such boats will be made available throughout the year, even during summer.

Bird-watching: The Lake is also an ideal destination for bird-watching and for nature-lovers apart from enjoying water-based recreational sports. The Lake houses various species of birds like spot billed ducks, purple swamp hens, painted storks, cattle egrets among others. The Outback Adventures has also taken all safety measures for the riders provided with life saving jackets and other security measures. It has set up rest rooms, changing rooms, ticket counter and locker facilities, restaurant to serve food, snacks, beverages and juices to the visitors.

It has deputed six technical staff and ground staff to take care of the visitors. Earlier, the visitors were entering through east side which made them difficult to reach boating point, but now the Lake is open on west side for easy access to visitors from Mysuru side. Visitors can enjoy the water sports at the Lake located just 10 kilometres away from the city. Water sports will be open for visitors from 9.30 am to 6 pm daily, he said.

Bus Facility: G.T. Devegowda, who spoke, said that buses will ply to Varuna Lake during Dasara season to enable tourists to enjoy water sports.

Earlier, a large number of passers-by had gathered on Mysuru- T. Narasipur Road to watch the event.

Local MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah, Dasara Special Officer and Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, Deputy Director of Tourism H.P. Janardhan, Tahsildar T. Ramesh Babu and others were present during the inauguration.

WORD OF THE DAY

Trousseau

Pronunciation: TROO-soh

Meaning: The personal possessions of a bride usually including clothes, accessories, and household linens and wares.

Origin: Trousseau is a descendant of the French verb trousser, meaning "to truss" or "to tuck up." Fittingly, a bride might truss, or bundle, a variety of items as part of her trousseau—and it is not too surprising that truss is also a trousser descendant. A less common descendant of trousser is retroussé, meaning "turned up," as in a "retroussé nose." The ultimate origin of trousser is likely the Latin verb torquēre, which means "to twist." Torquēre has many descendants in the language, among them a number of "tort" words (distort, contort, retort, extort), torque, and torture.

Example: I am fortunate to be in possession of various family heirlooms, including several items from my great-grandmother's trousseau.

THE ODD WORD

Uniped

A person or animal with only one foot or leg.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Blind as a bat

Meaning: Unconscious to something or unable to recognise problems or bad things.

Origin: The phrase has multiple meanings used both in context of its literal, as well as idiomatic use. This phrase can also be used in those situations where a certain behaviour of a person is not noticeable or not willing to be recognised by the other person. When someone having a faulty vision, one can allude it as blind as a bat. Talking about its origin it comes in the class of phrase derived from animals. This is a figure of speech that based on the assumption that bats cannot see properly. Before the 21st century, people used to believe that bats are blind because of their meandering flight pattern. However, in reality, they use to navigate long distances through a process called echolocation. This assumption about bats later developed as phrase with different meanings and today it's used in the context of someone who has terrible eyesight or someone who can't see even an obvious thing.

Example: I have such a lousy eyesight that at the time of diagnosis, I was called as a blind as a bat by the ophthalmologist.

QUOTE BOX

Love looks not with the eyes, but with the mind, And therefore is winged Cupid painted blind. —William Shakespeare
